

From the evening of Monday September 19 we will close the A41 at Hatton Heath between the hours of 19.30 and 05.30. This road closure could be for up to 2 weeks, but not closed Friday, Saturday or Sunday nights. This is to carry out repair works to the bridge parapet. A section of the parapet wall is leaning badly and will be taken down and rebuilt. We will also be casting a concrete strip next to the wall for added strength. The official signed diversion route will be via the A534 and A51 towards Nantwich. The A41 will be manned at the Chester and Broxton ends mainly to prevent HGV's. Locals can still use the country lanes to bypass the closure. There will also be a lane closure during the daytime for the duration of these works.
